

JAMES J. MCCARTHY LEADERSHIP SEMINAR FOR ARCTIC INDIGENOUS YOUTH LEADERS

Training seminar for talented and emerging Arctic Indigenous leaders, in memory of Professor James J. McCarthy and his strong dedication to the Arctic.

January 18 - 22, 2021

10:30am - 2:00pm ET

A five day intensive virtual seminar co-taught by Indigenous leaders and science and policy experts from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government.

This five day seminar will cover topics from:

- Building Resilience During Rapid Change
- Indigenous Knowledge and Multiple Ways of Knowing
- Finding Opportunities Through Resilience
- Leading Through Crisis (such as COVID-19)
- Innovating and Leading in a Changing World

Using simulations, case studies, skills-based workshops and Lavvu dialogues students will build the competence and confidence to step into leadership in their home communities and beyond.

Limited positions available. To apply please visit:

<https://forms.gle/S4pp8pdsuTkpcDPL9>

HARVARD Kennedy School
BELFER CENTER
for Science and International Affairs

Ассоциация «Оленеводы Мира»
Association of World Reindeer Herders

